Native American Student Programs Gathering of the Tribes Summer Residential Program June 23 -30, 2019

This exciting 8 day program is designed to give American Indian middle and high school students an opportunity to gain academic experience in a university setting at the University of California, Riverside. During the day, students will participate in various college courses, and personal development workshops. In the afternoons, they will engage in cultural and team building workshops, as well as fitness activities and a beach field trip. In addition, students will work with professors, college students, and invited American Indian community members as they discover and develop their career/lifetime goals. The program will end with a closing ceremony with certificates and awards. All students in the program will be available to UCR staff and students throughout their remaining years of high school, which will include guidance in choosing their coursework, financial aid, and applying to a university.

Don't miss out... The Summer Program will cover most of your expenses during the week. These include: housing, daily meals, course books, school supplies, and transportation during program activities. (Note: Participants are responsible for transportation to and from UCR at the beginning and end of the program. The program will not cover transportation costs, but will provide pick up arrangements for participants who arrive via bus, train, airplane etc. All travel arrangements must be made by the parent/guardian.

ELIGIBILITY

Participants must satisfy the following criteria:

- (1) Have the desire to contribute to the American Indian community.
- (2) Plan to enroll in an institution of higher education.
- (3) Be a currently enrolled 8th - 11th grade student (entering 9th, 10th, 11th, or 12th grade in Fall 2019)
- (4) Have an overall GPA of 2.5 or above (preferred, but not required).

Personal Insight Questions Requirement:

In order to be considered for the Gathering of the Tribes Summer Residential Program, UC personal insight questions must be included. The information you provide will help the selection committee determine admission of individuals to participate in the program. INCOMPLETE APPLICATIONS WILL NOT BE REVIEWED.

Keep In Mind

All questions are equal: All are given equal consideration in the application review process, which means there is no advantage or disadvantage to choosing certain questions over others. There is no right or wrong way to answer these questions: It's about getting to know your personality, background, interests and achievements in your own unique voice.

Directions

You will have 8 questions to choose from. You must respond to only 4 of the 8 questions. Each response is limited to a maximum of 350 words. Which questions you choose to answer is entirely up to you: But you should select questions that are most relevant to your experience and that best reflect your individual circumstances.

Personal Insight Questions

1. Describe an example of your leadership experience in which you have positively influenced others, helped resolve disputes, or contributed to group efforts over time.

Things to consider: A leadership role can mean more than just a title. It can mean being a mentor to others, acting as the person in charge of a specific task, or taking lead role in organizing an event or project. Think about your accomplishments and what you learned from the experience. What were your responsibilities?

Did you lead a team? How did your experience change your perspective on leading others? Did you help to resolve an important dispute at your school, church in your community or an organization? And your leadership role doesn't necessarily have to be limited to school activities. For example, do you help out or take care of your family?

2. Every person has a creative side, and it can be expressed in many ways: problem solving, original and innovative thinking, and artistically, to name a few. Describe how you express your creative side.

Things to consider: What does creativity mean to you? Do you have a creative skill that is important to you? What have you been able to do with that skill? If you used creativity to solve a problem, what was your solution? What are the steps you took to solve the problem?

How does your creativity influence your decisions inside or outside the classroom? Does your creativity relate to your major or a future career?

3. What would you say is your greatest talent or skill? How have you developed and demonstrated that talent over time?

Things to consider: If there's a talent or skill that you're proud of, this is the time to share it. You don't necessarily have to be recognized or have received awards for your talent (although if you did and you want to talk about, feel free to do so). Why is this talent or skill meaningful to you?

Does the talent come naturally or have you worked hard to develop this skill or talent? Does your talent or skill allow you opportunities in or outside the classroom? If so, what are they and how do they fit into your schedule?

4. Describe how you have taken advantage of a significant educational opportunity or worked to overcome an educational barrier you have faced.

Things to consider: An educational opportunity can be anything that has added value to your educational experience and better prepared you for college. For example, participation in an honors or academic enrichment program, or enrollment in an academy that's geared toward an occupation or a major, or taking advanced courses that interest you — just to name a few.

If you choose to write about educational barriers you've faced, how did you overcome or strive to overcome them? What personal characteristics or skills did you call on to overcome this challenge? How did overcoming this barrier help shape who are you today?

5. Describe the most significant challenge you have faced and the steps you have taken to overcome this challenge. How has this challenge affected your academic achievement?

Things to consider: A challenge could be personal, or something you have faced in your community or school. Why was the challenge significant to you? This is a good opportunity to talk about any obstacles you've faced and what you've learned from the experience. Did you have support from someone else or did you handle it alone?

If you're currently working your way through a challenge, what are you doing now, and does that affect different aspects of your life? For example, ask yourself, "How has my life changed at home, at my school, with my friends, or with my family?"

6. Describe your favorite academic subject and explain how it has influenced you.

Things to consider: Discuss how your interest in the subject developed and describe any experience you have had inside and outside the classroom — such as volunteer work, summer programs, participation in student organizations and/or activities — and what you have gained from your involvement.

Has your interest in the subject influenced you in choosing a major and/or career? Have you been able to pursue coursework at a higher level in this subject (honors, AP, IB, college or university work)?

7. What have you done to make your school or your community a better place?

Things to consider: Think of community as a term that can encompass a group, team or a place — like your high school, hometown, or home. You can define community as you see fit, just make sure you talk about your role in that community. Was there a problem that you wanted to fix in your community?

Why were you inspired to act? What did you learn from your effort? How did your actions benefit others, the wider community or both? Did you work alone or with others to initiate change in your community?

8. What is the one thing that you think sets you apart from other candidates applying to the University of California?

Things to consider: Don't be afraid to brag a little. Even if you don't think you're unique, you are — remember, there's only one of you in the world. From your point of view, what do you feel makes you belong on one of UC's campuses? When looking at your life, what does a stranger need to understand in order to know you?

What have you not shared with us that will highlight a skill, talent, challenge, or opportunity that you think will help us know you better? We're not necessarily looking for what makes you unique compared to others, but what makes you, YOU.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the goal of the Gathering of the Tribes Summer Residential Program to develop a community of learners (students, staff, and faculty) dedicated to educational pursuits and committed to their fellow learners. To achieve this goal, the Program has established the following policies in accordance with University policies and those promoted by programs across the country. Participating students agree to the following:

Students must complete all classes, workshops, presentations, and complete all assigned work to the best of their ability. Students are responsible for consulting with faculty, teaching assistant, tutors, and mentors.

Students must respect others and contribute to the creation of an environment conducive to positive learning throughout the entire week of the program.

In addition, program participants (students, staff, and faculty) agree to abide by UCR policies.

The possession of weapons is strictly prohibited by the University of California and is cause for immediate dismissal from the program.

A no alcohol/no drugs policy will be enforced throughout the program. The sale, possession, or use of alcohol or drugs is strictly prohibited. Disciplinary action will be taken against offenders and will result in dismissal from the Program.

No social misconduct of any kind will be tolerated, whether welcomed or not welcomed.

To benefit future program students, we require that all participants complete evaluations of their experiences in the program, including various evaluations during the program and a debriefing session at the end.

Failure to follow any of the above will result in cancellation of program support and services, a grade of "I" (incomplete) or a "NR" (no record) for the academic portion of the program, and/or dismissal from the program.

Parents will be responsible for all transportation expenses as a result of an early dismissal.

I have read and understood the above student responsibilities and agree to abide by them.
